Watch FP Concerts on Streaming Video

If you've been reading the minutes of the Board Meetings in this Newsletter, you might have caught wind of an exciting new project on which we are embarking. We will soon be video webcasting Minstrel concerts live as they happen. So if you can't get away from home on a Friday night, you can still catch the show from home if you have a broadband web connection.

It will be done through a service called Concert Window. You can establish an account with Concert Window, which will allow you to log into their site, go to the Folk Project's page, and launch the video stream. The webcast will only be streamed live; it will not be archived for future viewing. There will be a nominal $2.00 cost, and you will be encouraged to "tip" the performers at your discretion. Several other major folk venues are webcasting their concerts through Concert Window, including Godfrey Daniels in Bethlehem, PA, Caffe Lena in Saratoga Springs, NY, and Club Passim in Cambridge, MA.

By a happy coincidence, when the Morristown Unitarian Fellowship installed the new sound system in the Meeting Room last year, they also installed video equipment that is exactly tailored to the needs of Concert Window webcasts. There is a high-quality video camera pre-wired to a computer built into the sound system and attached to a high-speed modem designed for video. The sound on the video is supplied by the sound board, so there will be high-quality sound on the webcasts. The technical aspects of the webcast are simple enough that the current sound crew will be able to operate it without the need for additional volunteers.

This will also be a source of additional income for the Project and our performers. Concert Window takes a 30% cut of the viewer fees, and the balance will be split 50-50 between the Folk Project and the Feature Act. This can be a significant amount of money; in the order of hundreds of dollars per show. This program will raise the awareness of the Folk Project far beyond our local area. Concert Window also takes care of paying the royalties on the distribution of copyrighted music.

In case you're thinking of just watching from home, and not coming out to the shows, just remember: You get what you pay for. The webcast will be from a single fixed camera, which can make for a less than exciting viewing experience, no matter how good the music. It ain't the same as being there. But, if you absolutely can't get away, you can still catch the show.

At the time of this writing (late March), this is still a work in progress. I'm shooting for a May 1 launch of the program, dependent upon what technical issues arise as we get things going. We'll be running some non-public test webcasts during April. By May 1, there will be an instruction page www.ConcertWindow.FolkProject.org on how to log in and watch the streaming video. Watch www.FolkProject.org for further developments. When we go live, there will be prominent links on the website directing you to instructions on how to tune in. We'll also probably send out an email blast announcing the launch. I'm excited.

Fri., May 5: Jack Williams with Ron Renninger

Jack Williams comes to us from a rock background. It shows in the drive of his guitar work, which is clean, exciting, and endlessly full of beautiful and appropriate licks. His songwriting has an unprepossessing understated poetry to it, kind of like a South Carolina version of an acoustic Bruce Springsteen with Jerry Garcia on acoustic lead guitar. And if he holds true to form, catch his astonishing finale of a 15-minute free-association medley of every song from every genre ever written, and never the same as previously.

With an easygoing rapport and an obvious joy in performing, Ron Renninger leaps across a wide range of musical genres lightly touching down in some rather surprising places. With superb picking and distinctive vocals, both woven seamlessly around well-crafted and powerful songs. Ron is a longtime Folk Project member.

Fri., May 12: Open Stage

This is an opportunity for all acoustic musicians to perform a 15-minute set on our stage, and for the audience to be treated to a diverse collection of acoustic musicians. We've often seen previews of our regular scheduled acts for the first time at Open Stage. For information on how to secure a performance slot, call 973/335-9489, or visit www.OpenStage.FolkProject.org.

Fri., May 19: The Loose Canons with The Lords of Liechtenstein

Perhaps the very name of The Loose Canons will give you some insight to their approach to music. This 11-member choral group sings intricate vocal arrangements of folk songs, doo wop, classical favorites, as well as participatory pieces. But they specialize in parodies, satire, novelty songs, and other bits of musical humor. Dan and Noah Rauchwerk masquerade as The Lords of Liechtenstein. These irrepressible brothers play surprisingly sophisticated original songs accompanied on guitar, mandola, and ukulele. They create an innovative blend of folk influenced by Americana and Celtic music, presented with charming inter-song schtick, and bedecked in the latest in millennial sartorial hipness: sweater-vests.

Fri., May 26: CLOSED for Folk Project Spring Getaway

Fri., Jun. 2: Frank Vignola & Vinnie Raniolo with Frank & Hank

Frank Vignola is well recognized among the world's greatest Gypsy jazz guitarists. Frank's playing is brilliant, innovative, tasty, and unbelievable in its virtuosity. His fellow-guitarist Vinny Raniolo gathers no dust either and is in perfect synch with him. Frank draws his influence from the likes of Django Reinhardt and Bucky Pizzarelli, to such non-jazz icons as Frank Zappa, Les Paul, and Eddie Van Halen. He's played with the likes of David Grisman, Donald Fagan, Madonna, and Ringo Starr. And tonight he comes to the Minstrel. Don't miss him.

An eclectic mix of music from bluegrass to jazz to standards comes from the agile musical minds of Folk Project members Frank Sole and Hank (Hen3ry) Nerenberg. Frank is a skilled guitarist both in lead flat-picking styles and in Django-inspired jazz. Hen3ry (the 3 is silent) has one of the widest ranging musical minds in the Project and is a genius at innovative and appropriate arrangement.

UPCOMING: 6/9 Open Stage; 6/16 Fendrick & Peck with Shawna Caspi; 6/23 Folk Project Member Concert; 6/30 Happy Traum; 7/7 Broadside Electric with Fiona Tyndall; 7/14 Open Stage; 7/21 Tom Chapin with Butch Ross; 7/28 The Minstrel's 42nd Birthday Show; 8/4 The Inspire Project; 8/11 Open Stage

Bring Out Your FP History!

Dear Folk Project Extended Family:

This year marks the 41st anniversary of the incorporation of the Folk Project. Woohoo! Yay, us! To celebrate, the Archives Committee will begin collecting and preserving items of historical interest to the Folk Project and the community at large.

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR: Physical items relating to the Folk Project or Project 21, including projects under the auspices of the FP, such as Common Ground Concerts and Zed Music. In particular, we're seeking issues of newsletters (especially early issues), photographs, meeting minutes prior to 2006, correspondence, audio/videotapes of programs, posters, written history, and newspaper and magazine articles about the FP.

We plan to find appropriate housing for these items so that they can be accessed by researchers as well as FP members and families. We'd like to house the collection in or near Morris County but that depends on how much material we collect and on space and mission limitations of any receiving institution.

As treasures emerge from private collections, we hope to use them to highlight our legacy, widen our appeal, and attract new people to the FP family.

PROCEDURE: We're not asking for donations at this time. First, we'll send out a survey to discover what we have in our various closets, attics, filing cabinets, etc. Later, we'll collect and sort items. Lastly, we'll donate the items to an institution, where they will be stored safely and will be available for viewing and research.

THE SURVEY: Members and anyone on our mailing list will receive a link via email and we'll reach out to former members, too. There will also be a link on the FP web page and articles in the newsletter. You don't need to commit to donating any items yet. The survey will just ask what you have.

WHAT ABOUT RECORDINGS? Most institutions won't accept recordings without written permission from the performers. However, we DO want to know what you've got, as we may be able to digitize and archive these recordings ourselves.

Thanks to all from the Folk Project Archives Committee:

—Lindsey Meyer, Chair

Folk Project Annual Board Meeting • April 4, 2017

Board Meeting: The Summary

The April 4, 2017, meeting was called to semblance of order at 8:01pm in the home of President Steve Humphreys.

REPLACEMENT OF VICE PRESIDENT

Kathi Caccavale was elected by acclamation to replace Vice President Barrett Wilson, who is moving to Washington State.

MOTIONS

The minutes of the March 2017 Board meeting were accepted as amended.

An ad hoc committee will be formed to establish the Project's strategic direction.

The minutes of the February 2017 Board meeting will be amended to reflect that although Minstrel booking chair Mike A. hopes to eventually webcast events from Getaway via Concert Window, doing so is not yet technically feasible.

ADMINISTRATIVE REPORTS

Treasurer: Mike A. reports that the Project is strong financially, with nearly $50,000 in available cash.

OLD BUSINESS

Legal Housekeeping: President Steve H. reported that the review of Project documents and contracts to ensure that FP is in legal compliance and appropriately insured is well under way. Steve H. and Lori Falco asked venue chairs to provide their facility and performer contracts for review.

Member Concerts: MC Liaison Elizabeth Lachowicz happily reported that the Halloween show will be produced by Deborah Graham, and Summer Songs by Mitch Radler; Minstrel will continue to produce the Birthday show.

Speed the Meetings: The Board will experiment with changing the agenda order at the next meeting.

NEW BUSINESS

Vice President Search: New Vice President Kathi C. will continue to serve as a trustee. Her dual role will help to streamline the Board.

Future of the Project: President Steve H. noted that planning is needed concerning long-range goals. A problem that particularly needs to be addressed is that the average age of Projectiles is above 50. Mike A. stated that the Project has had a great run and that whatever happens will happen. The consensus of the Board is that planning is necessary.

The Board formed an ad hoc committee to establish the Project's strategic direction. Elizabeth L., Steve H., and Olga Alvarez volunteered to serve [more volunteers are sought—sec'y].

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Special Concerts: Chair Pam Robinson reported that the Kaia Kater concert was wonderful and showed a healthy profit. Upcoming events include a house concert by Joan and Joni [beautiful renditions of Baez and Mitchell songs—sec'y] on June 17; our annual Holiday show on December 15; and Jay Ungar and Molly Mason on March 23, 2018.

Folk Alliance International, which Pam attended with Board assistance, had 2000 attendees, 200 official showcases, and 3000 private showcases [FP attendance aids the Project's efforts to raise its profile—sec'y].

Newsletter: Chair George Otto reported that things are proceeding as usual, with the invaluable help of Kathi Caccavale, Pat Brangs, Nancy Kelner, Liz Pagan, Bill Henderson, and Joanne Cronin. The April issue included six April Fools items, with the equally invaluable help of Pelvis Burlapp.

Minstrel Booking: Chair Mike A. reported that Minstrel was in the black for March. Mike hopes to begin webcasting select Minstrel concerts via Concert Window in May; Bill Hall is championing the CW project, and Evelyn McNally is assisting.

A highlight booking [and an excellent, well-attended show—sec'y] was Silk City with Tony Trishka on April 7.

Horses Sing None Of It: Ralph Litwin reported that two very entertaining shows were taped in March: Heather Pierson Acoustic Trio [catch them at Getaway—sec'y], and Kate & Paul. Scheduled tapings include Banjo Nickaru & Western Scooches and Donie Carroll on April 20.

Event Hosting: Chair Christine DeLeon extended a hooray to President Steve H. and Christine Golis, who stepped in at the last minute to host the April Evening of Music, and to Newsletter Chair George O. for timely revisions.

Membership: Chair Joanne Cronin reported that the Project has 311 memberships, totaling 502 souls.

Swingin' Tern: Chair Leigh Walker reported that attendance is similar to last year's, and noted an increase in first-timers and returnees. Mike A. stated that the Board remains happy to support Swingin' Tern.

ONWARD!

Kathi C. led a hearty round of thanks and applause for departing past-President Barrett Wilson.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:46pm.

The next meeting will be held on May 2, 2017, at the home of Olga Alvarez and Gerry Hazel. All members are welcome; e-mail secretary@folkproject.org for directions and details.

Good o' the Order

*A place to share news with your Folk Project Community about memorable events and challenges.
Please send items to Joanne Cronin, joannelcronin@optonline.net*

Kathi Caccavale spent a very pleasant music weekend in Ocean Grove where they broke up into random trios, quartets, and quintets, with coaches, and played their music in the auditorium.

Mike Agranoff has another Mini Cooper on order, same color. The old car will be sold. Mike also requests that if anyone's interested in hosting performers, please let him know.

Lindsey Meyer has been out paddling already this spring, with Mike Agranoff. The water had receded sufficiently from his backyard to launch his canoe and they had a jolly time paddling upstream and avoided a wet exit.

Elizabeth Lachowicz has been blessed to spend several weeks with family and friends in Chicago, Mexico, and Wisconsin so that she could start her New Job, three days a week, as an instructional designer at a small nonprofit in Princeton. She's also working part time with Unit 4, where Robin Schaffer works.

Evelyn McNally says that Andrew Hines and Barbara Wofsy had their first house concert out in Tucson, with Jack Williams, and it was a great success. Mike A is playing there in September.

Paul and Gloria Fisher went to Chile in February, Paul's first time there in nine years. It was nice and hot, and they saw a lot of people they hadn't seen in years. Fun.

George Otto is looking forward to the sale of his Jersey City condo.

Peter Glenn was pleased to host James Keelaghan after his recent show at the Minstrel. They had a good time.

Jay Wilensky has been told by a neurologist to not play guitar for at least three months, "so, count your blessings."

Steve Humphrey's nephew, a former Navy SEAL team leader, is running for Congress as a Democrat in East San Diego, California. The Republican incumbent is under criminal investigation for campaign finance abuse.

Christine Del Vecchio is very, very happy that she is not commuting to New York full-time any more.

Diane Perry is announcing her new website for her folk act. Info on her duo with guitarist Todd Dennison (and sometimes trio with Todd and Frank Sole) along with videos, audio tracks, and her new blog can be found at www.DianePerryFolk.com. Please visit it, and, of course, she is looking for bookings! She has also just finished recording violin tracks on the debut album of The Don Juans, the performing duo of Grammy-award winning songwriters Jon Vezner and Don Henry. She's in good company. The other guest artists on their album are Nashville harmonica legend Charlie McCoy, Dan Dugmore on pedal steel (Linda Ronstadt and others), and founding Eagles member, Flying Burrito Brother, and Nitty Gritty Dirt Band member Bernie Leadon III, so she is definitely in good company!

Joanne Cronin spent two days in political pursuits. On April 5, she and Jean Scully were two of the 150 people who traveled by bus to Washington to attempt to speak with Congressman Frelinghuysen. "We do have a congressman—I saw him with my own eyes." Then, she and Jean went into New York for the April 15th Tax March. Both events were inspiring, fascinating, and took up most of two days.
